

Has recently appeared on Nickelodeon's new NickMom channel in a stand-up comedy special called "Mom's Night Out." Winner of the 2012 Ladies of Laughter competition, Host of the 2011 Lucie Awards at Lincoln Center and winner of the 2010 Gilda Radner Comedy Award, this very funny New Jersey Mom decided after 17 years of being a housewife, that being the funniest mom on the block wasn't enough for her. Ten years ago Robin moved her act from the school bus stop to the stage. Robin is a powerhouse and her act puts a unique spin on her 27 year marriage, kids, her aging parents and suburban life and so much more. Not only is she hysterical, she is unique and memorable. Audiences took to this "Mother like no other" from the very start. Robin Fox quickly rose through the comedy ranks and can be seen performing at some of the top Comedy Clubs and venues through out NYC and the northeast. Robin's talent was quickly noticed as she distinguished herself at several comedy competitions. Winner of the 2010 Gilda's Club Laugh-Off, Philadelphia's Funniest -1st runner up, Bud Lights Ladies of Laughter, at the finals for The Laugh off at Caroline's, and Baltimore's funniest. She can be heard on rotation on XM and Sirius Satellite Radio.
